

Locator Patient 2

Last Updated Sunday, 20 August 2006

Locator Attachments can be used on teeth as well as dental implants

These attachments not only work great with implants, but with teeth as well. Here we have retained two cuspid roots for this patient and the Locator attachments are used for added retention for her complete denture. This was especially useful since this was the patient's first experience with a denture and the attachments made the transition very smooth.