My Prosthodontic Board Case from 1984 14 Years Later. . .

I met Judith

in 1983 and promptly asked her to go to Seattle with me... That's where the Prosthodontic clinical exams were being given in 1984 and I thought that Judith would make a great patient. She agreed and one fine June day in 1984, Judith, my dental assistant and I flew to Seattle for one of the most nerve racking experiences of my life. The week went quickly and only remains a blur. I restored the maxillary right quadrant and inserted the mandibular right quadrant. We got on a plane and came home. Fortunately, I passed, but more importantly, Judith, her family and mine, became fast friends to this day.

About two weeks ago (the beginning of February, 1998) Judith flew down from Greenwich, Connecticut for me to do some porcelain laminates. The laminate work is on this page and the next, but what I'm sure you will find much more interesting is the way her dentition appears 14 years after I did the work.
