

Uninsured Who Then Get Medicare Coverage Have Improved Health

People who were previously uninsured and then got Medicare coverage enjoyed better health, particularly people with diabetes and cardiovascular disease, says an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA), December 26th issue. [click link for full article]

People who were previously uninsured and then got Medicare coverage enjoyed better health, particularly people with diabetes and cardiovascular disease, says an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA), December 26th issue. [click link for full article]

Read more at: <http://www.medicalnewstoday.com/articles/92695.php>.